

Fashion's Latest Whims

NEW CLOTHES FOR THE SOUTHERN EXODUS

Spring Styles Brought Forward at This Early Day Show Few Radical Changes-Flare at Bottom of Coat Now Universal.

where-at bridge, at the opera and at two fancy buttons in the centre front. dances-the familiar refrain, "When are ble in a warmer climate, will not neces- City of Modes. If the Minaret tunic

NEW FUR COATS FLARE.

that is to take her to any of the winter lete. resorts below the Mason and Dixon line but so also do the heavier ress for the parlor car during the day; it is the fabric par excellence for travelcent models. Drecoll is combining it with black satin, a combination that can be the stiff linen collars; in fact, Drecoll is stilized to good advantage in a travelling showing the high choker collar in linen. costume. Other equally well known couturiers are using plaid and checked materials in combination.

TUNICS AND SHORT JACKETS.

jackets in serge are the most successful in the front. and promise to increase in popularity as the spring season opens. There is a good ment to the spring suit, for it is far more newest have the Watteau pleat in the

If such a Jacket seems a bit too radical there is a good 28-inch length that is receiving the approval of a dashing modes into prominence. The cut will undoubtedly be widely copied, for it is well within the general style movement of the hour, and shows the wide flare at the bot-The lower part is gathered at the waist line on either side of the back and SHORT FUR JACKETS POPULAR. falls in a straight line; the upper portion s loose fitting, and there is the centre front fastening

FLARE ON MANY COATS.

Still another style, and yet one similar concealed by a wide belt, generally of the material. Even the redingotes, which Cherult has boosted with such success, have this decided flare at the bottom, a flare which is accentuated by a very wide band of fur. And if, instead of the fur coat, the de laine or duvetyn, it, too, will be distinguished by a decided flare below the knees. A smart model that is practical and comfortable, too, is developed in dark green, diagonal striped velours de laine, with the body and long sleeves cut in one piece, a deep turned-over collar, broad

CHRISTMAS GIFTS MOST EXQUISITE

PARIS CREATIONS or lady of Taste and Refinement. Somewhat Sources, Lorguettes, Watch Chains, and and Simil Diamonds, Breast Sons, Taugo Sets, Shoe Buckles.

importation of Exquisia Perfumes. A. F. JAMMES

anhough the social season in town has prevers and wide half belt, extending from really one just begun, one hears overy- the underarm seams and fastening with Any of these styles could be reproduced Even before the first in white serge, duvetyn or corduroy, and snowflakes arrive the Southern invasion a suit of this kind is almost a necessity der way. This means in the in the South; there are so many occaworld that spring costumes and sions for which a costume like this solver straw hats have again made their appear- the dress problem most satisfactorily. The s land of siect and cold may look white fabrics to serve the same purpose be with envious eyes upon these early One particularly good model, which has harbingers of spring, she can rejoice in just been completed for a Southern wardthe bargains the shops are now offering robe, has a skirt with the drapery brought at the edge to give the desired bouffant LITTLE NEW IN SPRING MODELS. effect. The bolero, embroidered in a clever in a bright emerald green tone adds welcoming dash of color

WHITE CHIFFON FROCK.

than in any radical new simply. These plain chiffon frocks are not normal lines; the great designers, even matrons, but they are also being worn always struggle for origina. to-day with quite as much zest. Miss Harwill admit that the general trend riet Alexandre were one at the Horse is along a Show one evening. Like the others, it Aside from the was fashioned very simply, with a welland sensational modes launched draped skirt, a very blousy blouse and a season, the changes in the modes deep sailor collar that reached almost to e gradual and rational-so gradual in the waist, finishing in the front in fichu that the freck of yesterday fashion. To bring these frecks right up the gown of to-day, with to the minute and a quarter of a second he woman with a well supplied ward- fur across the back-and only across the be is not compelled to add many new back-and a very wide girdle of the same u she seeks the land of per- fur. Very deep cuffs of the fur, reaching y, though undoubtedly more comfort- the freek is then the last word from the very different in style from added to the gown, a very narrow band those she has left hanging in her closets, of the fur may outline the edges and hide the stiffening of wire or boning, for the contrast of the narrow edging and the wire girdle strikes another of the new is a rule, when the visitor for the notes. Such a frock may be worn in to into the car of the limited dinner if one does not wish to wear déco

PLACE FOR TANGO FROCKS.

occupy the largest part of the wardroband quite justly. morning, right after luncheon through the time is there to wear any other clothes: supple taffetas are the newest, and the are positively irresistible when fashioned pointed tunies, showing many "godets. There are high, wide girdles, also of th taffeta, and quaint, kimono blouses, with dainty chemisette, and very high collar These collars are more on the Medic the overheated cars. And for this suit drder than the bunched up. Japanese-like collars of the winter, and they ling-and the authoritative designers do much opened in the front. The newest ang-and the authoritative designers do ones are of starched linen, and it is whise gift which is a luxury-something for ported to sell at $8. pered that we are going to see many of tango frocks worn in the evening, and therefore, to find a hearty welcome. There they are almost exact replicas of the balls a new bouquet odor that is not heavy Though serge is quite pliable enough to let girl's skirts. Poiret has used one on and overwhelming, though it is lasting over the numerals were radiant; this drape, a skirt of a practical suit is gen- his most successful evening gown. It is and persistent. It has a slight spiciness erally more satisfactory if cut with the mounted over a foundation skirt of white that suggests the East, and is put up in tunic, or even in the straight two-piece satin, and seems to finish a culrass of eddly shaped bottles, the square cut glass tion folding cases made in different colmodel. When satin or taffets is used in metal brocade, with the design picked out stopper tied on with a brown ribbon combination it forms the tunic, or double in silver on a yellow background. On the which matches in color the leather case, tunic, and appears on the waist as an un-simpler frocks this tulle tunic is devel. The price of $5 is not high for a first derbody under the bolero. The short oped into a pleated tunic, generally open quality extract.

TULLE TUNICS A LA BALLET.

Metal embroidery makes the new lingerie frocks look really new, though fational reason for the short jacket, such there is practically no change in lines. larly appealing violet fragrance. It is as the bolero or Eton, as the accompani- Here flounces take the place of tunics on many frocks, though the Minaret tunicomfortable in balmy weather than the lends itself so well to richly embroidered longer, more cumbersome garments. All effects that the designers are taking adof these jackets button from the neck to vantage of its popularity. Chiffon is the the bottom in a straight line, and the favored material for the handsome gowns which one wears to garden parties and formal receptions, chiffon over a foundation of charmeuse or taffeta. The touch of fur is seen very often on these wouldbe summer frocks. The accompanying French actress who has brought many wraps of bright colored taffets, with their puffings and shirrings, are delightfully picturesque, and suggest the Houppeland the coats intended for the street are built on the lines of the Eton and bolero. One particularly good looking coat of this type was developed in broadfall and trivers.

A ring box in enamel, just large enough Still another style, and yet one similar in general makeup, is slightly longer than half length and is semi-fitting just to the lips, where it joins a pleated flounce shout twelve inches deep. The joining is concealed by a wide beit generally of the have been arranged. The sleeves reached top and bottom so that the fragrance of scarcely below the cibow, and the muff completing the jacket was in the new kid- bag or vanity case. A few drops of perney shape, which extends almost to the fume or one of the solidified perfume elbow, protecting the lower part of the arm, as well as the hands. This new which sell for $3.50. shape, by the way, promises to have an NEW RECEPTACLES FOR POWDER traveller prefers a great coat of velours extensive vogue, for it is ideally comfortable with the three-quarter length sleeves, and so many women consider sisting of a brown wicker basket and a this length more dressy than the long slik top, lined with kid. The silk may be sleeves. A smart little toque of the of any shade to harmonize with the color broadtail cloth, cleverly draped, was scheme of the boudoir, and the silk cords edged with a wide band of the wolverine. across the front in bow fashion.

NEW GUIMPES.

Guimpes share the interest shown in vests, and, in fact, the dividing line be- a necessity on every dressing table, there tween the two is often indistinct. A guimpe may extend to the waistline and trimmed with dull gold face and braid. fill in the opening in the front of the waist, and thus fulfil the function of a vest. Exquisitely embroidered nets and batistes are used for these guimpes and semi-vests, and color is often reflected from the color is often reflected from the color is of the price of $3.50 is very reas nable for this novelty.

An unusual powder box, and yet a very inexpensive one, is of china decorated from the embroidery. Here the Japanese with Della Robbia design in blue and disinfluence sometimes asserts itself, for playing an edge of dark green leaves. Japanese and Chinese designs are wrought For the modest sum of $1.50 it makes an n wonderful colorings on the deep, hood- artistic gift. Even more unsual is the New Store, 543 8th Ave., Near 45th St. 8 like collars finishing the more expensive powder box in aluminum which plays a guimpes.

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE SOUTHERN WARDROBE.

BOUDOIR NOVELTIES FOR GIFTS.

which the recipient may have longed, but which she felt she could not afford-and many women are compelled, because of The tulle tunics are a feature of the extract, artistically incased, is sure the night may be long and dark. Last effect of a bonafide lamp. This novelty

A LASTING VIOLET PERFUME. Another perfume gives forth a particunot the very sweet, over-cultivated odor that one receives from the hothouse blossoms, but the strong, refreshing scent that clings to the violet which has drawn its substance from roots deeply imbedded in the earth. It is an unusually lasting violet odor, for the fragrance of this modest little flower is generally very elusive. Inclosed in a mottled purple leather! case, a bottle costs $3.50.

NOVELTIES IN ENAMEL. It would be hard to find a daintier present for the woman who has everything but a toilet article of cut glass and enamel. The enamel fittings are very decorative and pretty, and yet they are not impractical. A lavender salts bottle of cut glass with a top of enamel and silver The short jacket bids fair to prove as gilt is attractive. The large sizes are the perfume may penetrate through the Very luxurious are the powder bags conof any shade to harmonize with the color used to draw up this top portion likewise and two wired ears of the fur extended match. This receptacle is large enough to hold one of the luxurious, big, bath puffs, which are an addition to any well-appointed bathroom. With the puff the bag sells for $11 50.

To hold the absorbent cotton, which is is a good-looking, old blue taffeta box

FOR THE DARK HOURS OF NIGHT. There is lots of comfort to be found in is pushed. A little snade of silk, matchtheir limited incomes to consider expen- the clocks with "radium" faces, for the ing in color the leather stand, and trimsive perfumes in this list. A really good hour can always be distinguished though med with festoons of flowers, gives the year when these clocks were first introduced only the hands and the little dots year the numerals are also lighted. The clock is mounted on one of the regulaonsists of a stand in leather on which decorative addition to the dressing table. Cogether in a fanlike mount or a large keeping and the only real step savers.

In front of the watch there is a tiny light which flashes its rays on the face of the watch whencan be bought for $5 75. FOR THE DRESSING TABLE.

of the night can always be ascertained novelty, for it costs $32, but it is a most has been chemically treated. It is bunched valuable adjunct in systematic house-

STRAW HAT NECESSARY IN LAND OF ELOWERS

Many Hats for Wear at Southern Resorts Are Copies of Favored Winter Models-New Kinds of Feather Fantasies Being Introduced.

much from the point of view of comfort effective in black and white. as from that of style. The visitors bound forget, however, that these first models out of the top. are invariably along the lines of the soalled tailored type, and this type is never startling in shape nor in trimming. If one would repeat in straw the daring and chic of some of the winter headgear it will be necessary to have renilcas made ; in straw. And, in fact, many of the exdusive milliners are copying their sucthe new trimmings.

he season some becoming models which landscape designs, top made There is only one other alternative open cap. Again, the brim may to the woman who demands striking head- printed linen and the crown of straw. gear, and that is the acceptance of the The crepy cottons, with the design between season hat; but though the hats printed in bright colorings, are also when the ground is white with snow, they good for the soft crowns and drapings. appear like ghosts of the winter in a land of flowering shrubs. And the woman who designs, a hat of this kind can be made to selects one to wear during the journey South is almost sure to forget it and le it rest undisturbed in its tissue paper nest during her visit.

That there is an unusual amount of dash and esprit in the moire and taffeta no one can deny, but it is lost un less one is inspired to wear them in just the right way. It demands an intuitive moire hat built on the lines of the Conmental cocked hat, with sides sloping toward a point at the top and a waving feathery fantasy shooting up and outangle. It loves its rakishness and become wonderfully chie bit of headgear, but estige of style is lost, but the hat immediately becomes freakish.

MALINES MAY BE COMMONPLACE.

Quantities of maline are being used for nately it threatens to become commonplace, and unless one can indulge in many draped velvet or the Lewis turban by all filled and put back in their brackets similar drapings of maline. imilar drapings of maline.

season. At present the sailor is the largest half hour she devoted to light mending shape shown; the others cling more close- and a half hour to getting her luncheon fashion. If the hat is to complete the time. All the heavy work was done on tailored suit it is almost sure to be the two days that she had help, and on trimmed with feathers, and the under- the other days her system worked per orim trimming, which was heralded in a feetly, and the housework went without few isolated hats during the winter, is jar, and not once did one ever hear being more widely developed with the aid a complaint of overwork or unhappiness of feathery quills.

SUBSTITUTES FOR FEATHERS.

of the manufacturers of feather fantasies, who are surprising even themselves with causes not half the work that slipshod mounts which are quite as effective as those under the ban of the law. One ex-To place on the dressing table there is cellent substitute is the long, fuzzy prairie and Tuesday afternoon saw all the mend a pretty set in silver which consists of a grass, which grows freely on the steppes ing done as it came from the ironing mirror, two little trinket boxes, and two of Southern Russia and certain parts of board. None of the wheels of her houselong oval hairpin boxes, all arranged on Hungary. Another substitute is called held machinery seemed to clog, and she Another arrangement whereby the hour a silver tray. It is a rather expensive aigrettine, and is made from hair which demonstrated clearly that brains are a

In the land of flowers and balmy ball which is known as a colonel. Though preezes a straw hat is a necessity, as it comes in all the new colors, it is most

The ostrich pompons have become for the South are, therefore, compelled popular as trimming for the dressy hats to search for the first medels in straw that a new ostrich mount has been introwhich the milliners are timidly putting duced. By steaming the flues and attachforth, and many of them are going to be ing each separately by fine thread to a disappointed with the results of their thin silk wire an effect very similar in search. After accepting the flaring brims lightness and softness to the heron has and skyscraper trimmings of the late win- been produced. These may be mounted ter models, the first spring hats look directly in front or well toward the back wofully conservative. One should not of the hat, or they may grow, as it were

LINEN TRIMMED HATS. Another trimming effect-and one very different in character-is that of printed linens. With a white tub frock or a light serge costume these linen trimmed hats are going to be very good looking. There linens. One of the modified sailor shapes cessful winter hats in straw and adding has a crown and narrow brim of the linen showing a printed floral design in blue, ALL DEPENDS ON THE SLANT. orange and black. A band of blue satin braid outlines the brim and lends a stif-This method does not evolve any new fening edge to the twisted bow at the styles, but it does give to the woman side. Soft, crushable crowns of the linen the must buy certain spring hats early in printed in floral or in the new Chinese otherwise she might not be able to find. toques, which fit the head as snugly as a in slik and malines seem very summery ized for trimmings and are particularly As several colors are usually found in the do service for many frocks.

HOW A WOMAN SAVED STEPS.

When she was dressed in the morning o go down to prepare her early breakfas and gathered up all pitchers, glasses o anything that had to go downstairs and took them with her. After starting breakpulled up shades, gathered up papers and scrap baskets and carried them back to the kitchen with her. Then, breakfas quickly set in order, the refrigerator and losets put to rights, dinner and luncheou cided upon. Then she started to the paskets and placed a chair at the foo of the stairs. Everything that went up stairs was placed on that chair, and after the dusting was done the things were car hall, and as the rooms were done up fo the day everything that went down was hats it would not be wise to replace the placed on the chair. Next the lamps were The most popular of the straw hats is drafts also closed down and then the little the sailor in one of its modifications, lady dressed and went to market. All this though this remark might apply to had been done, and it was only 10;30 shapes at the beginning of any millinery o'clock. In one hour she was back, a to the head in typical turban and toque at 1:30 o'clock she was free until dinner

She had accumulated every convenience to work with, and by using her head never The new law has aroused the ingenuity where the work is kept right up to the mark every day is always in order and methods make for the housekeeper Tuesday's froning fire baked the bread,

Revillon Trères

Special Sale of Fur Coats, Sets and Evening Wraps

On Monday and the following days at prices to insure their immediate sale.

BROADTAIL COATS

were $1200 to $1500 now $750 to $1000

MINK COATS

were $2200 to $4500 now $1250 to $3200

ALASKA SEAL COATS

were $1300 to $1500 now $950 to $1300

PERSIAN LAMB COATS Leipzig-dyed Skins

were $500 to $700

now $375 to $500

CARACUL COATS

were $165 to $725

now $95 to $475

HUDSON SEAL COATS

now $125 to $350 were $225 to $475

FRENCH SEAL COATS,

Collars and Cuffs of contrasting furs

now $100 were $175

EVENING WRAPS,

Silk and Velvet fur trimmed

now $125 to $250 were $225 to $475

Also neckwear and muffs in the prevailing fashion in a great variety of desirable furs at equally attractive prices.

19 West 34th Street, New York

MONTREAL